Diana Delivers State of the County Address

GOSHEN, NY - Orange County Executive Edward A. Diana presented his State of the County address today to the Orange County Legislature in the Government Center in Goshen, focusing on the County's future.

Some highlights of his address included:

- Orange County has a balanced budget that reduces taxes by $4 million dollars.
- Orange County's Triple-A Bond Rating has been reaffirmed, confirming our County's strong financial position.
- Orange County completed building the Newburgh SUNY Orange Branch Campus on-time and under-budget.
- Orange County has streamlined government services to improve efficiencies.

In closing, the County Executive stated that the world is changing quickly, but he assured citizens that Orange County is ready for tomorrow, as is evidenced by the actions of his administration and this Legislature. He said that residents should be confident that their interests are being well guarded and the future protected.
