PORT JERVIS OPENS COOLING CENTER

Air Conditioned Youth Community Center now available for Port Residents

GOSHEN – County Executive Edward A. Diana and Deputy Commissioner of Emergency Management Seamus K. Leary add Port Jervis to the list of municipality specific cooling center information that was released earlier today:

The City of Port Jervis has opened a cooling center at the Youth Community Center located at 134 Pike Street. Center hours are from 10 a.m. to 5 p.m. through Friday, July 22. For more information, please call (845) 858-4045 or visit www.pjrec.com/youthcenter.htm.

As a reminder, the County previously confirmed the following information:

The City of Newburgh designated the Activity Center at 401 Washington Street as a temporary cooling center for area residents through Saturday, July 23, while extending the operating hours of the Delano Hitch Recreation Park pool through Saturday, as well. For additional information please call (845) 565-3230.

In the City of Middletown, area residents in need of temporary cooling centers are being directed to utilize public buildings during this heat wave. To find the closest facility, residents should visit www.middletown-ny.com or call (845) 346-4101.
